This precious detoxifying activated glacial mud decontaminates, purifies, hydrates, rebalances, exfoliates and normalizes. It actively eradicates dandruff and captivates oil while regulating sebum production. Free-radical scavengers and oligo-elements calibrate, nurture and rejuvenate scalp and hair.

METHOD OF USE: Gently and evenly distribute to warm damp scalp, gently massage using circular movements with finger pads while little by little adding warm water. Leave in pose for 5-10 minutes, rinse and proceed.

Our Fuller's Earth Volcanic Clay is derived from deposits of volcanic ash of Cretaceous age extracted from glaciers in the Italian Alps and contains minerals like magnesium, quartz, calcium, iron silica, calcite, and dolomite. It acts like a natural scrub and exfoliate and is known for its ability to absorb unhygienic oils and other impurities, making it an effective scalp cleanser for oily clogged pores. It removes the dead skin from the upper layer of skin for the pores to breathe, improving skin tone and complexion leaving the scalp soft and supple.

Activated charcoal adds volume and has cleansing properties that improve the appearance of hair and eliminates dirt, pollutants, unnecessary minerals, and product buildup. When it's applied on the scalp and skin, activated charcoal will draw out present impurities, dirt, and bacteria promoting revitalizing oxygenation, it also unclogs the pores in your scalp thus detoxifying the follicles. This helps the hair grow better.

Aloe Barbadensis Leaf Juice combats excessive oil build-up and dandruff on the scalp and eliminates bacteria. With its enzymes it moisturizes the hair and promotes hair growth. For baldness, the Aloe juice eradicates any problems of the scalp and acts as a conditioning agent.

Olive Oil contains a large amount of antioxidants, promotes moisturized and healthy scalp and fights infections caused due to bacteria and improves the blood circulation of the scalp that makes your hair follicles stronger thereby helping to produce hair strands that are softer, healthy and thicker. It also moisturizes your hair and reduces scalp irritation, which further reduces dandruff.

Malva Sylvestris extract has natural cooling properties and mucilage, blue malva is excellent as an emollient for dry skin and hair. It is also mildly astringent and helps with psoriasis, eczema, boils, abscesses, and wounds

Apricot oil is excellent in hair and on skin due to its high amount of nutrients. It is rich in fatty acids, as well as Vitamins A, C, and E. In hair it aids in growth, adds shine without being greasy, reduces dry scalp/dandruff, and softens hair. This also applies to beards.

Witch Hazel helps dry out excess oils and grease, which makes it great to be used on oily hair and scalp, it helps treat scalp sensitivity and provide relief from symptoms, such as dandruff, itching and tenderness. The vasoconstrictive properties of witch hazel also mean that massaging it into your scalp helps increase the blood circulation thus reducing hair loss.

Cetrimonium Chloride is a biodegradable cationic revitalizing and purifying agent that is an excellent conditioner with anti-static, anti-frizz, detangling properties and is effective for softening coarse hair. It gently cleanses and eliminates odor by preventing the growth of microorganisms and enabling water to mix with dirt and rinse away.
